

ENTERING THE BUILDING

In general, employees other than maintenance employees are not to be in the buildings when the buildings are closed. It is understood that employees may sometimes come in early or stay late to perform work functions. In the event that an employee must enter the building when it is closed, for reasons of safety, the Managing Librarian, Assistant Director or Director must be notified in advance.