

PHONE CALLS, PERSONAL

Personal phone calls should be made on breaks or meal times. If a call comes for an employee during work hours, whether on a library phone or personal cell phone, it is expected that the conversation will be limited or deferred to a more appropriate time. Personal long-distance calls must be paid for by the employee.